Dr. Paulo J. Oliveira, Project Coordinator

9:30 Opening Keynote Talk - MAFLD: advantages and risks of a new name

Dr. Helena Cortez-Pinto, University of Lisbon, External Advisor

10:15 ESR1 – Mitochondrial oxidative stress and remodelling in NAFLD

Inês Simões – NENCKI (PL)

10:45 ESR 2 – Krebs cycle remodelling in NAFLD

Sara Guerra – CNR (IT)

11:15 ESR 3 – Importance of mitochondrial hydrogen sulfide oxidation in liver pathophysiology

Inês Mateus – INSERM (FR)

11:45 Coffee Break

12:00 ESR 4 – Relationship between intestinal short-chain fatty acid production and hepatic bioenergetic status in NAFLD

Getachew Belew – CNBC (PT)

12:30 ESR 5 – Fish ω -3 phospholipids to improve NAFLD phenotype

Gabriella Sistilli – IPHYS (CZ)

13:00 ESR 6 – GLP-1 as a key player in the gut-liver axis: role in NAFLD

Bárbara Patrício – CNR (IT)

13:30 Lunch Break

Afternoon Session

- 14:15 ESR 7 – Non-invasive NAFLD functional fingerprinting using novel technologies
Emilio Molina Molina - UNIBA (IT)
- 14:45 ESR 8 – miRNA markers and cell death in NAFLD progression
Tawhidul Islam – FFUL (PT)
- 15:15 ESR 9 – Mitochondrial Biomarkers to Predict Hepatic Surgery Success
Rui Silva – IIBB-CSIC (ES)
- 15:45 Coffee Break
- 16:00 ESR 10 – Physical activity and NAFLD
Jelena Stevanovic – UPorto (PT)
- 16:30 ESR 11 – Mediterranean Diet and Liver Bioenergetics in NAFLD
Harshitha Shanmugam – UNIBA (IT)
- 17:00 ESR 12 – Fat-free diet for mitochondria: Mushroom-enriched diets for NAFLD
Adriana Fontes – HMGU (DE)
- 17:30 ESR 13 – From the bench to the zeitgeist
Mireia Alemany i Pagès – CNC (PT)
- 18:00 End of Session
